Compacting & Differentiation Confratute Strand - 2024

Session Description

Learn practical strategies and resources about how to use curriculum compacting and differentiation in your mixed-ability classroom.

Compacting is an effective tool for managing and organizing differentiation in any classroom or as a part of the Schoolwide Enrichment Model. In this strand, teachers will learn how to identify previously mastered curriculum content that can be eliminated and replaced with differentiated curriculum, assessments, and enrichment to enhance students' strength areas and excitement for learning!

This session is excellent for those new to gifted education teaching in mixed-ability classrooms or for instructional coaches and specialists looking for ideas for building their professional development repertoire.
